Dear Friends

Welcome to our August issue, which is packed full of fascinating articles for Kremt (rainy season) reading.

Interest in Ethiopian artists, musicians and writers is growing around the world. Our cover story this month features a documentary about celebrated musician and dancer, Melaku Belay the founder of Fendika Cultural Center and Ethiocolor band.

We also have an article on Gabriella Ghermandi, a renowned Italo-Ethiopian singer, performer, novelist, and short-story writer, who has just released a new album, 'Maqeda'.

To prepare for the Ethiopian New Year, Tesfa Tours has its unique calendar and agendas ready. Our travel writer brings us an article on Dire Dawa, and Chocolate Donut Holes is our recipe.

We hope you enjoy all our articles this month.

Keep warm and stay safe!

"TAKE ME TO FENDIKA" DOCUMENTARY

Fendika Cultural Center is a well-known and much beloved dynamic art space that draws artists from across Africa and the world to present music, dance, poetry, and visual art. This film tells the story of how this vital space came into being and how it continues to serve as a place for artists to invent and reinvent Ethiopian modernity and place it in dialogue with global culture.

Melaku Belay is the director of Fendika Cultural Center (fendika.org), president of the Ethiopian Dance Art Association, world-renowned Ethiopian dancer, and leader of Ethiocolor and Fendika bands. Melaku has always been committed to the development and preservation of Ethiopian performance culture and heritage. Under Melaku's leadership since 2008, Fendika is the first music venue in Addis Ababa that pays regular salaries to traditional musicians and dancers. Fendika is home to artists of many disciplines and cultural backgrounds, offering music, dance, visual art and poetry.

Cisco Bradley is an American historian known for his work on music, migration, and cultural production. He is a professor at the Pratt Institute, where he teaches the history and aesthetics of music from the African diaspora and runs the Music and Migration Lab. Take Me to Fendika is his first documentary film. It is a collaboration with filmmakers and artists in the U.S., Ethiopia, and Sweden. The film focuses on the Fendika Cultural Center and founder, dancer Melaku Belay, as well as a number of active musicians in Addis Ababa.

GABRIELLA GHERMANDI: CELEBRATING ETHIOPIAN MUSICAL TRADITIONS

'Maqeda': An homage to Ethiopian female figures, communities, rituals, and musical styles. Released by the Atse Tewodros Project

Gabriella Ghermandi is an Italo-Ethiopian singer, performer, novelist, and short-story writer. Her writing focuses on the intersection of Ethiopian and Italian identity. Parallel to her writing, Gabriella has built a reputation as a performer of narratives adapted from Ethiopia's oral and musical tradition. Her readings are usually accompanied by Ethiopian music and songs and revolve around historical events. These performances have toured around the world.

The Atse Tewodros Project

This is a musical ensemble created by Gabriella in 2010. Her vision was to bring together an ensemble of Italian and Ethiopian musicians to foster mutual dialogue and artistic creation. The Project was founded in Addis Ababa, growing out of the collaboration between Gabriella, Ethiopian composer Akililu Zewdy, and Professor Berhanu Gezew. It is named after the Ethiopian Emperor Atse Tewodros II who ruled from 1855 to 1868 and is widely considered the father of modern Ethiopia, providing Ethiopia the chance to modernize while respecting its traditions. Similarly, the Atse Tewodros Project creates music that opens up the diverse traditions of Ethiopian music to dialogue and exchange of different musical genres.

“Maqeda”

The making of the Maqeda album, released on 21 June 2024, was brought to fruition by the Atse Tewodros Project, Maqeda being the Amharic name for the Queen of Sheba. It’s an Ethiojazz album entirely dedicated to the female figures of Ethiopian and African history and the mythology and rituals of various ethnic groups that center around women. Meticulous research from Gabriella and her musical team resulted in the use of four different Ethiopian languages; Amharic, Kunama, Gamo and Gofa. Every song is an homage to female figures, communities, rituals, and musical styles.

DELICIOUS GLAZED CHOCOLATE DONUT HOLES

Make your day a little sweeter by adding chocolate.

INGREDIENTS

For the Donut Holes

- 1 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
- 1/2 cup cocoa powder
- 1/2 cup granulated sugar
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup milk
- 2 large eggs
- 1/4 cup unsalted butter, melted
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- Oil for frying (vegetable or canola oil)

For the Glaze

- 1 1/2 cups powdered sugar
- 1/4 cup cocoa powder
- 1/4 cup milk
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Prepare the Dough

- In a large bowl, whisk together the flour, cocoa powder, granulated sugar, baking powder, and salt.
- In a separate bowl, whisk together the milk, eggs, melted butter, and vanilla extract.
- Gradually add the wet ingredients to the dry ingredients, stirring until just combined. Be careful not to overmix.

2. Heat the Oil

- Pour enough oil into a deep fryer or large heavy-bottomed pot to reach a depth of about 2 inches. Heat the oil to 350°F (175°C).

3. Shape and Fry the Donut Holes

- Using a small cookie scoop or a spoon, scoop out small portions of the dough and carefully drop them into the hot oil. Fry the donut holes in batches to avoid overcrowding the pot.
- Fry the donut holes for about 2-3 minutes, turning them occasionally, until they are puffed and cooked through.
- Use a slotted spoon to remove the donut holes from the oil and drain them on a paper towel-lined plate.

4. Prepare the Glaze

- In a medium bowl, whisk together the powdered sugar, cocoa powder, milk, and vanilla extract until smooth and well combined. If the glaze is too thick, add a little more milk. If it's too thin, add a bit more powdered sugar.

5. Glaze the Donut Holes

- While the donut holes are still warm, dip each one into the chocolate glaze, turning to coat them completely.
- Place the glazed donut holes on a wire rack to allow the glaze to set.

6. Serve

- Once the glaze has set, the donut holes are ready to be enjoyed.

These glazed chocolate donut holes are best served fresh. Enjoy!

DIRE D

DIRE DAWA: THE EASTERN JEWEL

The beautiful eastern town of Dire Dawa was founded in 1902 when it became impossible to lay the Ethio-Djibouti railway line via Harar because of the steep access to the town.

As the railway project progressed, the town also developed, attracting a diverse population of Greeks, Armenians, and Arabs who opened hotels and shops. This once great imperial railway company, during its early operations, provided landlocked Ethiopia access to the sea via Djibouti. Currently, the old railway line only operates between Dire Dawa & Dewele, a border town between Ethiopia and Djibouti.

Apart from the railway, Dire Dawa is known for its warm climate, making it an ideal travel destination during the heavy rainy season that spans from June to September. Once you set foot in this vibrant eastern town, you will be left in awe, with a range of places to visit, and most of all with the beautiful smiles that melt your heart.

From the old railway station to the lively Kefira and Ashewa markets, from the huge Jumma Mosque to the modern Greek Orthodox church, Dire Dawa has a little bit of something for everyone. And don't miss out on trying the street food vendors; fresh, warm and delicious, prepared right in front of your eyes and served with love.

Where to stay? The Harla Inn, (taking its name from the Harla people that once inhabited the surrounding areas), awaits you with exceptional hospitality. With comfortable rooms, a welcoming compound and the aroma of traditional Ethiopian coffee, you will absorb and enjoy the local vibe in no time. Let Harla Inn be your Dire Dawa base camp.

THE WONDERS OF BLACK CUMIN SEED OIL

Ancient Ethiopians coveted the black seed as a cure for nearly everything and today Ethiopians continue to swear by this oil especially during gunfam/cold and flu season. The oil has seen a resurgence and once again people are seeking out black seed for its amazing benefits. Numerous scientific studies have been conducted showing the benefits of black seed oil. Ethiopian black cumin seed oil is naturally grown in the Bale Valley of Ethiopia. The richness of the soil and the proximity to the equator are believed to produce an oil superior to those grown in other regions of the world. The seed oil is extracted from the harvested seeds of the Nigella Sativa plant.

Black cumin seed oil is used for many different health reasons. The oil increases the number of red blood cells, which helps to improve anemic conditions and associated symptoms. Aside from relieving cold and flu symptoms, black seed oil is also meant to aid digestion by increasing stomach acidity, reducing nausea, vomiting, and bloating. It is high in minerals, especially iron, calcium, zinc, and magnesium.

Here's one way of using it according to <https://salamnutrition.com/>:
For adults, take one (1) teaspoonful (5ml) twice daily, preferably with a meal. Can be used in oatmeal, mixed with yogurt, cottage cheese, salad dressings, blended beverages and protein drinks. Or try a few drops of black seed oil mixed with hot milk or tea sweetened with honey. It does have an intense taste but its alleged virtues are worth the bitterness!

POWERFUL HABITS OF TRULY HAPPY PEOPLE

The pursuit of true happiness involves more than just seeking immediate pleasure. Recent research categorizes happiness seekers into three groups: those pursuing pleasure, engagement, or meaning. People who focus on engagement or meaning tend to be happier. To cultivate happiness, incorporate these 11 habits:

1. Create your happiness by prioritizing it.
2. Surround yourself with positive influences.
3. Prioritize quality sleep for mood and well-being.
4. Live in the present moment, accepting the past and the uncertainty of the future.
5. Practice self-compassion and appreciate your strengths.
6. Cultivate gratitude to improve mood and well-being.
7. Regular exercise boosts mood and control over impulses.
8. Forgive to prevent grudges but remain cautious.
9. Express your emotions openly to reduce stress.
10. Focus on what you can control and learn from failures.
11. Develop a growth mindset to embrace challenges and foster happiness.

By adopting these habits, you not only enhance your happiness but also become a better person.

THRIVING ADDIS ABABA TENNIS CLUB

It is more than likely that not many people know that there is a thriving and long-established tennis club in the heart of the city (next to the Ghion Hotel)! The Addis Ababa Tennis Club hosts local and international tennis tournaments offering substantial prize money.

These events, jointly organized by the Ethiopian Tennis Federation, Abdella Nedim Organization, and Addis Ababa Tennis Club, have attracted participants from over 29 countries, including the United States, Canada, Brazil, and countries in Europe, Asia, and Africa.

Established in 1970 during the reign of the Emperor, the Addis Ababa Tennis Club has since become a prestigious hub for over 225 members. Historical records and eyewitness accounts reveal that the club flourished during the reign of the emperor, but its activity dwindled in subsequent years. Presently, the Tennis Club features four competition courts and a practice court and is open to both members and non-members for a day pass. However, it is preferred that interested players become annual members.

What is particularly inspiring about the Club is their support of poor children living in and around the local community. The Club not only gives them free tennis (and soccer) tuition but also pays for school fees and feeds them too. Several sponsored students have gone on to become excellent players even competing internationally. There is also a very popular Saturday kids program open to all children which includes tennis development and training for tournaments, soccer and aerobics.

*The club is in the process of establishing a social media presence but for any inquiries both in Amharic and English you can contact Henok (+251911209405) or stop by for a visit:

THE NEW AND UNIQUE TESFA CALENDAR AND DESK DIARY

Running from 1 Sep 2024 – 31 Aug 2025 for 2017 EC, this invaluable calendar displays Western dates (Gregorian) and Ethiopian dates. It weaves the many saints' days, annual festivals, fasting periods, Islamic holidays, various curiosities and even the full moon dates into a Western calendar matrix.

Convert Ethiopian dates, and plan ahead to see when a saint's day will mean your area is congested, understand why there's chanting from your local church and spot great times to visit churches! And it's always good to know when the fasting seasons start and end!

The calendars and agendas are illustrated with inspiring photos from Tesfa community tourism treks, with safe places to visit (Tigray and Gurage) even if all of the guesthouses cannot be visited at the present time. The price per calendar is 600 birr and hanging size 29cm x 52cm.

The Agenda /Diary version contains 52 photos with one week per page and also contains a wealth of information about the saint's days including other notable days throughout the year which cannot be fitted in the hanging calendar. The size is approximately 20 x 14.5cm and this year it is bound with a ring binder spine to make it easier to write notes in it. The price is 700 birr. All profit generated (after printing costs) supports the local communities.

British entrepreneur Mark Chapman became captivated with Ethiopia after first exploring Ethiopia back in 1992/93. In 1997, he moved to live in Ethiopia and began developing the concept of community tourism in the mountains around Lalibela soon after. He has been involved in Tesfa Tours ever since.

Calendars and Agendas are available from the Tesfa Tours office in Kebena

MANAGEMENT DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM FOR ETHIOPIAN PROFESSIONALS

YEP is a Young Entrepreneur Program in management and leadership development which has been running in Ethiopia since 2017. It focuses on personal development and practical application of theory.

YEP is instrumental for Ethiopian managers and leaders who want to expand expertise in their roles. Regardless of the industry or type of organization, YEP can train individuals in entrepreneurship and management skills. YEP will also train professionals to become skilled in leading teams, organizations, divisions, enterprises or communities; all while developing a profitable and sustainable business. All aspects of a successful business are based on entrepreneurial behaviour, which is the backbone of YEP. The program is proven and unique: providing training to put management theory into daily lives and business practices.

The YEP Management Development Program is targeted at Ethiopian professionals who would like to advance their entrepreneurial skills and management know how. The program spans two years with 4 training weeks each year. Dutch experts provide the training in the beautiful venue of the Kaizen Excellence Center. The program includes eight one-week (Monday to Friday) training sessions, spread over two years. These quarterly one-week training sessions are scheduled in March, June, September and December. After completion of the YEP courses, participants receive their YEP Certificate at a special graduation ceremony, which takes place at the Dutch Embassy in Addis Ababa. Currently, YEP is scaling up in order to be able to empower more people in Ethiopia.

BY ITSUSHI KAWASE

In this playfully structured collection of stories and photographs, Kawase journeys from Japan to the Ethiopian streets of Gondar where he spent one year. He learns from a diverse cast of characters including local bards, musicians and priests, including the young Azmari singer Tigabu and the Lalibela poet Tilahun.

This is the first English translation of the 2021 Suntory Literary Prize-winning Japanese author and visual anthropologist, Itsushi Kawase.

About the author

Itsushi Kawase is an anthropologist, filmmaker, and poet born in Gifu, Japan. He has been conducting research on Ethiopia’s hereditary singer-poets since 2001. Currently he is an associate professor at Japan’s National Museum of Ethnology and the Graduate University for Advanced Studies. He has won numerous awards for his writing and films, most recently the 2022 Umesao Tadao Literary Prize.

About the Translator

The book’s translator, Jeffrey Johnson has an academic background in anthropology and literature. Born in America, he lived in Spain and now resides in Tokyo. Johnson has previously authored works of literary criticism and a poetry book titled, “Conjurers Dream of Voyage”. In addition to this project, he is the translator of “Landforms and Climates”, a collaboration of four outstanding poets of the contemporary Japanese scene. He is also a founding editor of the Tokyo Poetry Journal.

AFRICA

CALLING AFRICAN SMALL PUBLISHERS!

New edition of African Small Publishers' Catalogue in progress

The 6th edition of the African Small Publishers Catalogue is coming out by October 2024. There is still time to become a part of it. This invaluable reference book lists over 60 small and independent publishers from across Africa, including countries such as Egypt, Ethiopia, Ghana, Zimbabwe, Senegal, Nigeria, Togo, Mauritius, Mozambique, Morocco, Uganda, Rwanda, Malawi, Algeria, South Africa, and Namibia. Countries outside of Africa that list their work in African publishing also include Canada, Germany, the UK, the US, Switzerland, and France.

The catalogue provides contact details for these publishers but also features articles which offer insights into the challenges and experiences of small publishers in Africa. It serves as a valuable resource for publishers, writers, librarians, booksellers, and NGOs involved in promoting reading, literacy and African Publishing.

CALLING ...
